National Collegiate Soil Judging Contest 2025 was a success!

UW-Stevens Point, in partnership with the Wisconsin USDA-NRCS, proudly hosted the National Soil Judging Contest from April 27 to May 3. Of the 28 teams that qualified for Nationals, 27 competed (UWSP qualified but did not participate as the host). Over 300 students attended, supported by an enthusiastic team of volunteers, including current students, alumni, NRCS staff, and soil professionals from across the country. The week began with an opening ceremony on campus and continued with hands-on practice at soil pits across Portage County. Beyond the judging, students enjoyed a Career Awareness Fair at the Food + Farm Exploration Center on Monday and a Polka Social at Whitefeather Organics farm on Tuesday. The contest concluded with individual competition on Thursday, followed by team judging and the awards ceremony on Friday.

A heartfelt thank-you goes out to the sponsors, volunteers, landowners, students, coaches, and everyone else who helped make this national event a success! - Shoutout to Dr. Bryant Scharenbroch for his enthusiasm and leadership. Congrats on your hard work to coordinate this successful event!

Dr. Shelli Dubay

Professor of Wildlife
Faculty Adviser for the Wildlife Society Gray
and Flying Squirrel
Projects

“From my 3 years here, Dr. Dubay has been one of the most supportive professors I have had, not just in the captive wildlife program or the CNR but throughout UWSP.

Consistently, she instills confidence in us both in the classroom, who balances high expectations with genuine care, and as aspiring captive wildlife professionals. Within her classes, learning has never felt transactional; instead, I often find them to enhance academic curiosity and growth so we may thrive in our desired fields. While future endeavors have seemed daunting, Dr. Dubay has reinforced, in multiple classes, that we are capable of making an impact. Personally, her support and direction have contributed immensely to my current scholarship and shaped the kind of captive wildlife professional I wish to be in the future. And for that, I am deeply grateful.”

-CNR Student

“I could not have asked for a better leader for the 2025 Cheetah Rewilding Internship in South Africa. Her passion is infectious and we all bonded over the stories and knowledge Shelli shared with us! It is always a joy to see her around the TNR.”
