
University Personnel Development Committee (UPDC) Annual Report FY25 (July 1, 2024-June 30, 2025)

The purpose of the University Personnel Development Committee (UPDC) is to facilitate professional development activities of all members of the University community by providing financial resources and helping to improve grant writing skills.

The UPDC provides grant opportunities for faculty and staff to improve their professional skills or university programs. Grant proposals are evaluated and critiqued to provide constructive criticism and to aid in improving grant writing skills.

Scope and Authority: The University Personnel Development Committee has the responsibility to develop policies and formulate criteria necessary to maintain a viable program for the development of university personnel. It has authority to recommend funding of grant applications (e.g., research, personnel development, and teaching improvement).

Award Types & Deadlines

The Professional Development Grant (PD) (maximum award: $3,000) supports professional development opportunities for university employees to expand their knowledge base and to develop new skills. Group Applications are allowed, each co-applicant provides their own Attendance Justification and requested amount should not exceed $3,000 per applicant.

The Research and Creative Activities Grant (RCA) (maximum award: $7,500) supports employees in research endeavors, scholarly investigation, and/or creative projects.

The Course Innovation Grant (CI) provides a stipend for creating or revising courses that feature innovative pedagogy. Innovative pedagogy may involve novel or creative: course objectives, instruction that targets emerging demographics, classroom teaching and learning processes, and/or assessment method. Grant recipients receive a stipend of up to $1,000 per credit.

The Wisconsin Teaching Fellows & Scholars Program (WTFS) (maximum award: $6,000) offers UW faculty and teaching academic staff the opportunity to collaborate with others across the UW and be guided through the process of completing a Scholarship of Teaching and Learning project. Awards include a stipend for each fellow/scholar as well as travel costs associated with the four events, run by Universities of Wisconsin-Office of Professional & Instructional Development (OPID). UW defines Fellow as early career, and Scholar as 10+ yrs teaching experience.

The Publication Fund is designed to encourage and support refereed publication of scholarly and creative work. Only papers or books that have been accepted by a refereed publisher are eligible for funding. One request up to $1,000 per fiscal year per individual can be awarded as funds are available. Applications not approved by the Director of the ORSP will be advanced to UPDC for final determination.

The Creative Dissemination Fund is designed to encourage and support faculty and staff in the dissemination of their work in media that would not be supported by the Publication Fund. One request up to $1,000 per fiscal year per individual can be awarded as funds are available. Applications not approved by the Director of the ORSP will be advanced to UPDC for final determination.

UPDC deadlines for grant applications are determined by the committee at the start of each academic year and shared through Campus Announcements, UPDC website, and word of mouth.

Generally, grant deadlines that occur both in the fall and spring are Professional Development, Research and Creative Activities, and Course Innovation.

One fall deadline is established for Wisconsin Teaching Fellows and Scholars applications, to align with December submission to Universities of Wisconsin.

Grant applications with rolling deadlines include Creative Dissemination, Publication Fund, and Professional Development applications of $1,000 or less.
