WE WANT TO SEE YOU SUCCEED WHILE LIVING IN YOUR COMMUNITY

Lakeland Care wants to help you live well in your own home and remain connected to your family, friends and community. We support you by putting your needs and goals first. We know living at home is important to you, and for you.

Living in your own home (a house or apartment with or without others) has many benefits. You can plan your own day and decide when to do certain things such as when to wake up and when to eat meals. You can do what you want, when you want.

Everybody, including people with disabilities and seniors, should be able to live at home with supports and be a contributing member to the community.

Living in your own home means you can change your routine and surroundings to give you comfort and happiness. It brings a sense of calm, comfort and connection to cherished memories.

You can maintain your friendships, and your family and friends can visit you at any time. It also keeps you connected to your community - your grocery store, pharmacy, and your church.
