

Auerbach Well-Being Satisfaction Scale

Name _____ Male ___ Female ___ Age _____

Directions: Please answer each question. For the upper choice, row A, choose a number that represents how satisfied you are in that area (overall in the past week). Then for the lower choice, choose your target satisfaction level, which is a blend of your true goal for this area factored together with how motivated you are to make changes in this area. These areas can become part of your well-being vision and your coaching agenda. What satisfaction number are you at now? What is your target satisfaction level? You may have target satisfaction scores that are the same, or different, from your current level of satisfaction. There are not necessarily right, or wrong, answers, this is entirely your choice -- you decide what is important to you.

Keep in mind that some areas may not be that important to you right now. For example, let's say you are not interested in "exercise" in this chapter of your life. You might rank this area as a "6" because you are quite satisfied with this area of your life now (although someone observing your exercise habits might rate you as lower). You are rating your satisfaction level, not other people's opinions. Let's say you are very interested in "positive relationships" in this phase of your life. You might choose to rank this a "5" if you feel generally satisfied with that area of your life. Upon reflection though, you may conclude that you feel particularly motivated to increase your "positive relationships" from a "5" to a "7", so you enter a "5" in the upper row and a "7" in the lower row.

Ranking System: 1 represents the lowest level of satisfaction and 7 represents the highest possible satisfaction.
