Thursday, June 8th
World Oceans Day

World Oceans Day serves as a celebration of our oceans, which generate most of the oxygen that we breathe, feed us and regulate the planet's climate.

Unfortunately, as a result of human pollution and exploitation, the world's oceans are becoming increasingly delicate.

In 1992, the Government of Canada proposed World Oceans Day at the Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro. By 2002, the Ocean Project, a non-profit organization dedicated to conservation of the planet's oceans, began to promote and coordinate the event on a global scale. Finally, in December of 2008, the United Nations General Assembly officially proclaimed June 8th as World Oceans Day.

On Thursday, May 25th, Facility Services had the opportunity to thank Vice Chancellor of Business Affairs, Greg Diemer, for all that he has done on behalf of the department prior to his retirement during the T.E.A.M. sponsored Brat & Hamburger Luau. Greg has had a constant appreciation for the people of Facility Services and will be missed. Thank you Greg!
