UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Inside

Recent library visitor "Storm"

- » Library Staff & Service Changes
- » Tech Updates
- » Library Events
- » Library Labs Workshops
- » Renewals Policy Change
- » Food for Thought Café

NEW!

Study Spaces

Find a Study Space

http://www.uwsp.edu/library/Pages/studySpaceSearch.aspx
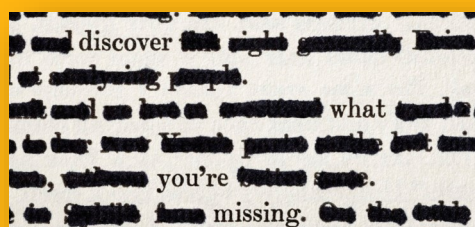

New Reference Desk Hours

__9:00am-8:00pm__
Mondays
Tuesdays
Wednesdays

__9:00am-3:00pm__
Thursdays
Fridays

__Closed__
Saturdays
Sundays

BANNED BOOKS WEEK 2017

discover what you're missing.

CELEBRATE YOUR FREEDOM TO READ

Library Staff & Service Changes

We have had a number of library staff changes in recent months due to retirements, serving in interim positions and some have moved to new adventures.

Mindy King—Interim Library Director

Kayla Becker—Circulation Coordinator

Shaun Przybylski—Acquisitions/Periodicals Coordinator

Melissa Bailey—Cataloging

Kathy Davis – retired

Axel Schmetzke—retired

Sara Weisensel—retired

Lin Vogel—retired

Susan Mory—retired

Denise Heimstead

Andy Pech

https://www.uwsp.edu/library/Pages/libraryDirectory.aspx

Tech Updates

- Search@UW—new interface. More up-to-date, fewer clicks, mobile friendly, revamped MyAccount.

- ABI Inform has expanded into Proquest Premium Business Collection.

- Lexis Nexis is now Nexis Uni.

http://libraryguides.uwsp.edu/az.php

Library Events

Banned Books Week – 9/24 – 9/30 (lobby display)

Wisconsin's John Muir Traveling Exhibit– 10/3 - 10/21 (lobby display)

Open Access Week – 10/23- 10/29 (online information)

Exam Cram (library event for students – TBA)

http://www.uwsp.edu/library/events/Pages/default.aspx

Keepin' It Real: Tips and Strategies for Evaluating Fake News

Fake News is becoming a real problem for individuals that rely on web delivered news (often via social media) to help them make sense of the world. This library lab will define fake news, provide examples, and discuss strategies and resources to help you successfully identify "news" content that is out of context and/or motivated by political or social bias.

Presenter(s): Dave Dettman
Audience: Campus Wide
- Approved for SBE Events Credit

FAKE NEWS

Tuesday, Oct. 3rd

3:00 p.m.

ALB, Room 316

Library Resources for Business Research

This hands-on workshop will feature the Library's Business Premium Collection and demonstrate how to find scholarly articles, trade publications, industry and market research, commodity reports, company reports, and country reports.

Presenter(s): Mindy King
Audience: Campus Wide
- Approved for SBE Events Credit

ABI BUSINESS

Tuesday, Nov. 14th

3:00 p.m.

ALB, Room 316

3D Printing and Scanning

3D Printing and scanning have opened up new means of creation and thus unleashed imaginations of countless users. This workshop will provide an introduction to those technologies in general and also the explore the specifics of what the University Library can offer to those interested in making use of these unique tools.

Presenter(s): Matt Sonnenberg
Audience: Campus Wide
- Approved for SBE Events Credit

3D PRINT & SCAN

Tuesday, Dec. 12th

12:00 p.m.

ALB, Room 310

https://www.uwsp.edu/library/Pages/workshops.aspx

Faculty and Staff are now limited to three renewals for most library materials.

This new policy allows for materials to be checked out for a total of two years. After the two year mark, items must be physically brought back to the Circulation Desk. At the time items are returned they are also checked for holds. If no holds exist on the returned items, the patron is then able to re-check them out for another two year period*.

This policy has been put into effect to help keep our collection available not only to UWSP users, but also to users across the UW System.

*Any item that has been supplied by another UW System Library will be rerouted back to its home institution. We are not able to extend loan periods for these items beyond the two-year limit.

Sorry for the inconvenience,
Food for Thought Café
is closed
for the Fall Semester due to renovation

Instead, please try the
Homegrown Café in the DUC

Coming Soon in January, is the new campus

"One-Stop" Service Center

that will address student needs in one convenient location

UNIVERSITY
LIBRARY
James H. Albertson Center for Learning Resources