Welcome to the 2022 American Suzuki Institute!

As we embark on a new journey in a post-COVID world, there is much to celebrate – being together here on this beautiful campus, seeing old friends and making new ones, and of course making music together. Who would have thought 3 years ago, that we would appreciate those things so very, very much?!

There are many things to enjoy, both at ASI and in Stevens Point. Most of what you need – your classes, concerts, lectures, and even some free-time activities – can be found in this booklet. But what you will not find in this booklet, however, is the element that makes ASI truly magical – the people. A world-class faculty, deeply caring parents, and dedicated students all conspire to create the essence of ASI.

Over the past 51 years, many things, such as root beer floats, Belt's and talent shows, have become traditions. Other things have gradually changed or have been replaced by new ideas. But the one thing that we sincerely hope will never change, is the quality and vitality of the teachers and the loving environment created by all who come together in July. Those of us who live here year-round do so because it's a special place to work and live...but it's never more special than it is during these two weeks.

So, take some time to read about the exciting schedule, check out the downtown and the beautiful nature that surrounds us, and find the best places to eat, but most of all... "Experience the Magic" that is ASI.

Ann Marie Novak, Director of Suzuki Programs

Residence Halls. Check out time is noon on Saturday. Room keys and access cards must be returned to the hall's front desk by noon on Saturday, or fees will be assessed – no exception. A fee of $25/hour will be assessed if you are not checked out by noon.

Lectures and Enrichment Classes. One of the unique aspects of ASI is the focus we give to parents and teacher workshop participants. Monday through Thursday at 11:05 am several lectures are offered to aid you in your role as home teacher. And, to make it even easier for moms and dads to have their mind and spirit nourished, we're offering several new electives for the kids at the same time. Check the office for openings in electives; they cost $65. Electives will start at 11:00 and lectures at 11:05. Lectures will end at 11:45 and student activities at 11:50. This enables you to attend a full lecture while your child attends an activity. Both will be offered in the NFAC, and students will stay with teachers until parents have picked them up. Check the daily schedule for lectures and student activities.

The Role of Recitals at an Institute...

Dr. Suzuki taught that each piece requires three stages of learning—

1. The introduction of the particular technique(s) that a piece utilizes
2. The fluency phase - when students can play the piece from beginning to end from memory with all the correct rhythms, fingerings, bowings and technique
3. The artistic phase - when the mechanics of the piece are so habitual that the performer can communicate a mood or character or a feeling through the music.

These are the performances that really speak to the audience's heart. Since the piece is well within the performer's skill level and the execution is effortless, there is surplus attention to give to the emotional content of the piece. Sometimes the amount of time between when a piece is fluent and when it becomes artistic can be as much as a year or two or when the student is well into the next book. Professional performers for example, never take their newest piece first to the concert halls in big cities with music critics. Instead, they hone their performing skills in much smaller venues until the piece becomes comfortable, easy and they feel confident.

True artists are hardly ever satisfied. They are always trying to improve and are reaching for the next level of playing. And that's why you're here—to learn how to get to the next level, how to become an artist. And what better way than to have five consecutive lessons where one can hardly practice a small task incorrectly? Secondly, since we as Suzuki students believe in the power of the environment, we are also here to be inspired by outstanding performers, both adults and students, who have achieved that level of communication in their performance.

Thus, the evidence of a successful institute experience is not whether students are selected to perform on a recital, but rather if they leave ASI with the tools and the motivation to be a more artistic player than when they arrived.

KASH Park (1224 W. Whitney St.): Kids Are Special Here at this universally accessible playground, which has equipment that provides fun for all ages and mobilities.

Explore Downtown Stevens Point and Our Suzuki Sponsors: Visit local businesses and eateries, especially places that are Suzuki sponsors. Take Hwy 66/Main Street west to downtown. The Mathias Mitchell Square at the west end of downtown has a fountain running periodically in the summer that kids (and adults) can play in.

Want to enjoy the great outdoors? Here are a few suggestions:

Green Circle Trail (www.greencircletrail.org): This 27-mile scenic hiking and biking trail loops through the Stevens Point area and winds through forests, parks, wetlands, and along rivers. Visit the website for information about specific sections of the trail (spoiler alert: they're all beautiful), and check out the free, kid-friendly activities along the trail listed below.

Stevens Point Sculpture Park (901 2nd St. N): Stroll through wooded trails and enjoy artwork from local, regional, and national artists. Check out the upside-down house while you're there!

Schmeekle Reserve (parking lot at 2419 North Point Drive but walkable from campus): 5 miles of trails and boardwalks give you plenty of chances to observe wildlife in this nature preserve on the north side of the UWSP campus.

Wisconsin River Area: A paved portion of the Green Circle Trail runs along the edge of the Wisconsin River from Piffner Park (1100 Crosby Ave.) to Bukolt Park (100 Bukolt Ave.), perfect for a quick walk or ride next to the water. Both parks have new playgrounds.

Iverson Park (4601 WI-66): Check out the beach for swimming in the Plover River and explore the many trails that meander through the park. Plenty of picnic areas and a playground, plus historic stone buildings and bridges make this a great place to visit.
