REQUIRED TEXT:

DiNitto, D. (2016). Social Welfare: Politics and Public Policy, 8th ed. University of Texas.

Please select one (1) of the following books to read and critique. You will be required to submit our reflection papers on your selected book. The reaction paper assignments are outlined on page 9 in the syllabus.

Cantú, Francisco. The line becomes a river: Dispatches from the border (2018). For Francisco Cantú, the border is in the blood: his mother, a park ranger and daughter of a Mexican immigrant, raised him in the scrublands of the Southwest. Haunted by the landscape of his youth, Cantú joins the Border Patrol. He and his partners are posted to remote regions crisscrossed by drug routes and smuggling corridors, where they learn to track other humans under blistering sun and through frigid nights. They haul in the dead and deliver to detention those they find alive. Cantú tries not to think where the stories go from there. Plagued by nightmares, he abandons the Patrol for civilian life. But when an immigrant friend travels to Mexico to visit his dying mother and does not return, Cantú discovers that the border has migrated with him, and now he must know the whole story. The Line Becomes a River makes urgent and personal the violence our border wreaks on both sides of the line.

Desmond, Matthew. Evicted: Poverty and profit in the American city (2016). In Milwaukee, Desmond moved into a trailer park and then to a rooming house on the -poverty-stricken North Side and diligently took notes on the lives of people who pay 70 to 80 percent of their incomes for homes that, objectively speaking, are unfit for human habitation. He takes readers into the poorest neighborhoods of Milwaukee, where families spend most of their income on housing and where eviction has become routine—a vicious cycle that deepens our country’s vast inequality. Based on years of embedded fieldwork and painstakingly gathered data, Evicted transforms our understanding of extreme poverty and economic exploitation while providing fresh ideas for solving a devastating, uniquely American problem.

Elliott, Andrea. Invisible Child: Poverty, survival, and hope in an American City (2021). Invisible Child follows eight dramatic years in the life of a girl whose imagination is as soaring as the skyscrapers near her Brooklyn shelter. In this sweeping narrative, Elliott weaves the story of Dasani’s childhood with the history of her family, tracing the passage of their ancestors from slavery to the Great Migration north. As Dasani comes of age, the homeless crisis in New York City has exploded amid the deepening chasm between rich and poor. Dasani must guide her siblings through a city riddled by hunger, violence, drug addiction, homelessness, and the monitoring of child protection services. By turns heartbreaking and inspiring, Invisible Child tells an astonishing story about the power of resilience, the importance of family, and the cost of inequality. Based on nearly a decade of reporting, Invisible Child illuminates some of the most critical issues in contemporary America through the life of one remarkable girl.

Land, Stephanie. Maid: Hard work, low pay, and a mother’s will to survive (2019). While the gap between upper middle-class Americans and the working poor widens, grueling low-wage domestic and service work—primarily done by women—fuels the economic success of the wealthy. Stephanie Land worked for years as a maid, pulling long hours while struggling as a single mom to keep a roof over her daughter's head. In Maid, she reveals the dark truth of what it takes to survive and thrive in today's inequitable society. While she worked hard to scratch her way out of poverty as a single parent, scrubbing the toilets of the wealthy, navigating domestic labor jobs, higher education, assisted housing, and a tangled web of government assistance, Stephanie wrote stories of overworked and underpaid Americans. Maid explores the underbelly of upper-middle class America and the reality of what it's like to be in service to them.

Stevenson, Bryan. Just Mercy: A story of Justice and Redemption (2014). Unfairness in the Justice system is a major theme of our age. DNA analysis exposes false convictions on a regular basis. The predominance of racial minorities in jails and prisons suggests systemic bias. Sentencing guidelines born of the war on drugs look increasingly draconian. Studies cast doubt on the accuracy of eyewitness testimony. Even the states that still kill people appear to have forgotten how; lately executions have been botched to horrific effect. Stevenson is the co-founder of the Equal Justice Initiative, and this book focuses mainly on that work, and those clients. Stevenson has worked to free scores of people from wrongful or excessive punishment, arguing five times before the Supreme Court. His writing reaffirms that we should judge the character of a society by how they treat the poor, the condemned, and the incarcerated. He reminds us that people should be defined by more than the worst thing they have done, and he challenges capital punishment by asking, “Do we deserve to kill?”

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course introduces students to policy practice in public and private organizations and in community and legislative arenas. Students will learn to analyze social policy, understand policy implication, and research and analyze a policy for proposed change or implementation. This course will also emphasize the development and implementation of political strategy, policy formation, as well as the policy evaluation in historical context of social welfare policies in the U.S., and the negotiation of policy changes.

COUNCIL ON SOCIAL WORK EDUCATION CORE COMPETENCIES

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) identifies core competencies (measurable practice behaviors comprised of knowledge, values, and skills) that students must demonstrate and apply throughout their education and that social work programs must infuse into their curricula. This course was designed to provide exposure to these competencies and serve as a foundation for the further development that will take place should a student be admitted into the social work major. Students pursuing further education in social work should familiarize themselves with these competencies.

1. Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior.
2. Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice.
3. Advance Human Rights and Social, Economic, and Environmental Justice.
4. Engage in Practice-Informed Research and Research-Informed Practice.
5. Engage in Policy Practice.
6. Engage with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities.
7. Assess Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities.
8. Intervene with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities.
9. Evaluate Practice with Individuals, Families, Groups, Organizations, and Communities.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Students who successfully complete this course will be able to:

1. Understand that policies define the context within social service delivery systems from micro to macro levels. (Social Work Competency 5)
2. Analyze a specific social welfare policy to assess its effectiveness at combating social injustice and inequality (Competencies 1, 2, 3, 4, & 5).
3. Understand the value base of social policy practice, including value for diversity, and develop skills in cultural competence when analyzing policy (Competencies 2, 3, 5, 7, & 9).
4. Understand the value of and skills necessary to engage in political action and policy practice (Competencies 5, 6, 8 and 9).
5. Demonstrate the ability to utilize the results of evaluation and research to build effectiveness in understanding policy effectiveness (Competencies 4, 5, & 9).
6. Understand and implement negotiation techniques to affect policy advocacy or changes in policy (Competency 5).

CLASS FORMAT:

Classes will include lecture, discussion, media clips, individual and group exercises.

Etiquette Tips/Reminders:

- Students are expected to attend class regularly and read all assignments before attending the class for which they are assigned. Students should be prepared to take part in discussion, experiential, and written assignments in class. Please put laptops and cellphones away during class unless this is prearranged with the instructor.

- One participation point will be awarded per class during the semester based on attendance and participation.
- Occasionally this class will meet synchronously in Zoom (ex. During hazardous weather or other circumstances). Students will be alerted to this change as soon as possible and Zoom meetings will be scheduled in CANVAS and outlook.

CLASSROOM CULTURE:

One of the goals of this class is to learn accurate information that will help us change prejudice and discrimination--our own and that of others. There is an expectation that students will do their best to use non-sexist, non-racist, gender-neutral, and non-stigmatizing language during class discussions and in written work. Some useful guidelines for accomplishing this include:

- When referring to ethnic and racial groups use the language that is presently acceptable to that group.
- When referring to people who have intellectual, cognitive, or emotional challenges, are homeless, etc. present this in a way that does not stigmatize them. Avoid using terms like “the mentally ill”, “the disabled”, “illegal aliens” or “the homeless”. Instead use person-centered language, such as “individuals experiencing mental illness”, “people with disabilities”, undocumented immigrant or worker, etc.

WRITING ASSIGNMENTS:

- ◆ All assignments should be submitted in Canvas on or before their due date. All written assignments must adhere to APA guidelines. Students are responsible for obtaining guideline information. Please see the instructor if you need assistance in doing this.
- ◆ Papers will be graded on accuracy, breadth of content, and development of ideas, spelling, and grammar.
- ◆ Spelling and grammar should be checked. Please do not rely on spell and grammar check as your only editorial tools.
- ◆ When references are used, ALL references must appear in a reference list at the end of the paper in APA formatting. In text citations must be used when citing information from outside sources.
- ◆ All assignments are posted on assignment module of CANVAS, in the Syllabus, and in the course calendar.

LATE PAPERS/MISSED EXAMS/INCOMPLETES

Students are expected to complete course work by the date that it is due. Students are responsible to contact me to negotiate for any alternate date and this must be done BEFORE THE DUE DATE. The same process is necessary to request an incomplete. Requesting an extension does not automatically mean that you will receive one. If assignments are turned in late without an extension request, partial credit will be given.

No late assignments will be accepted two weeks past their due date. Please attend office hours or arrange an appointment to discuss any assistance you may need.

PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism—using words or ideas of another person without citation—will result in lost points and could lead to a failing grade on an assignment. Any quotation, fact, or major idea taken from a book, article, or other source, must be cited within the text of your paper, as well as being included in your reference list at the end of the paper using APA formatting.
