Course Description:

The purpose of this course is to provide you with a deeper appreciation and understanding of the literary and cinematic arts by teaching you to uncover the richness of verbal and visual compositions. You will learn to analyze great works of literature and film as we read and watch four masterpieces: One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest (Ken Kesey/Milos Forman), The Talented Mr. Ripley (Patricia Highsmith/Anthony Minghella), A Clockwork Orange (Anthony Burgess/Stanley Kubrick), and No Country for Old Men (Cormac McCarthy/Joel & Ethan Coen). In the process, we will explore such themes as madness, music, violence, propaganda, art, freedom, racism, intolerance, government oppression, conformity, sexuality, class conflict, greed and American values. We live in a culture that constantly bombards us with words and images, so in addition to learning how authors and filmmakers use language and imagery to communicate ideas and create meaning, you will also learn to pay attention to the ways in which words and images can be used to manipulate you into seeing the world a certain way.

For the most part, class will be run as a large informal discussion that will allow you to work through your ideas, bring up any questions you have, and exchange opinions with your classmates in a way that will broaden your perspective on the novels and films we discuss. I will lecture occasionally to provide you with necessary background information, but my role will be that of a facilitator who guides class discussion. Therefore, this class is what you make of it, and its success depends largely on your willingness to participate and make it your own. You will have to keep up with the reading, take notes on the films we watch, and show up to class with something to say. If you do, you will find this class to be both enjoyable and rewarding.

The course fulfills the AAS depth requirement (after you have taken English 200: Introduction to Literature) and the BA/BS fine arts requirement.

Requirements:

Close Reading Essay (2-3 pages)	15% of Grade
Scene Analysis Essay (2-3 pages)	15% of Grade
Comparison Essay (4-5 pages)	25% of Grade
Final Exam	25% of Grade
Attendance / Participation	20% of Grade

Essays:

Over the course of the semester you will produce three essays. Each essay must: 1) Make an original, contestable, specific, and persuasive argument about a literary and/or cinematic work from the course, 2) Gradually develop your reader's understanding of the text, 3) Display polished and elegant prose, 4) Follow rules of grammar, syntax, and citation, and 5) Be free of typos. You will have the option to rewrite either the Close Reading or Scene Analysis Essay.

Required Texts:

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, Ken Kesey
The Talented Mr. Ripley, Patricia Highsmith
A Clockwork Orange, Anthony Burgess
No Country for Old Men, Cormac McCarthy

Recommended Texts:

The film versions of the four required texts available on DVD, Blu-ray, or Streaming:

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, Milos Forman
The Talented Mr. Ripley, Anthony Minghella
A Clockwork Orange, Stanley Kubrick
No Country for Old Men, Joel & Etan Coen

Grades:

Grades are equal to the following percentages:

A+	98-100
A	93-97
A-	90-92
B+	87-89
B	83-86
B-	80-82
C+	77-79
C	73-76
C-	70-72
D+	67-69
D	60-66
F	59 and below

Attendance:

You are allowed two free absences without penalty, but each subsequent absence will lower the participation portion of your grade by half a grade (i.e. from A to A-). If you miss more than six classes, you will automatically fail the entire course.

Policy on Academic Misconduct:

Plagiarism, or taking credit for words or ideas not your own, is a serious offence and will lead to dire consequences. The penalty for plagiarism ranges from failing the course to expulsion from the university. See the Student Rights and Regulations handbook for more information about plagiarism and its consequences. If I think you have plagiarized, I will meet with you and refer your name to a disciplinary committee responsible for overseeing the investigation of academic crimes. Except for acknowledged quotations, all of your work is to be written in your own words. You may not copy from a book, another student's paper, a webpage, or any other source.
