2. Selection of articles & readings on D2L

Course description

This course provides an introduction to the theory and practice of teaching English as a Second Language. We will discuss theories and research findings of second language acquisition that inform language pedagogy. In addition, students will learn how to implement theoretical understandings of second language acquisition to create pedagogically sound lesson plans. It is intended that (most) assignments can, with minimal modifications, be taken to the students' future classroom.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will...

- gain a basic understanding of current issues in Second Language Acquisition
- demonstrate an understanding of important contemporary topics in ESL education and how these topics impact classroom planning and teaching
- develop a specialized vocabulary to aid in professional discussions
- form their own, well-reasoned opinions based on readings, observational experiences, and discussion with colleagues
- engage in reflective learning and practice
- gain a greater appreciation for content-based teaching in ESL classrooms as well as techniques of teaching ESL to aid them in their future classrooms
- use assessment strategies to evaluate information in an informed manner for which they will hold their future students accountable
- use technology in a way that enhances other teaching strategies in the ESL classroom
- formulate a well-articulated classroom management plan
- demonstrate professional work habits as a teacher

Field Experience

As part of this course, students will be required to participate in at least 30 hours of field experience. Each student will be placed with an ESL teacher who will help to advise and guide them through this process. The purpose of this practicum is to expose students to classroom interaction in an ESL environment. At the end of the practicum experience, students will have the cooperating teacher fill out the clinical field experience report (on D2L), scan it, and turn it in via OneDrive.

Evaluation

Participation/Attendance/Readings	10%
Discussion question presentation	2%
Video Presentation	8%
Classroom Management Plan	10%
Collection of Activities	20%
Lesson Plans	20%
Assessments	10%
Practicum Reflections	10%
Exam	10%

Participation/Attendance/Readings 10%

1. Students will be graded based on their active participation in class activities (whole class, group work, pair work). Students are expected to come to class prepared by having read the assigned reading for that day. Although we will not be focusing on everything from the readings in class, students are still expected to understand the information found in the readings. We are here to learn, so contribute with your thoughts and concerns! Respectful behavior is expected (no use of cell phones in the class).

2. Attendance is obligatory and contributes to the grade earned for the course. When absent, participation is not possible and therefore results in a loss of participation points. Absences that are justified by a doctor's note are excused. In case of an emergency (i.e., due to grave illness, hospitalization, funeral of a family member, etc.), you must let me know as soon as possible. Send me an email, or leave me a note in my mailbox. Written documentation/evidence of extenuating circumstances must be given to me within one week of the absence.

3. Arrive on time. When students arrive late, they disrupt the class and may miss important announcements.

4. Students are expected to come to class prepared by having read the assigned reading for that day. Although we will not be focusing on everything from the readings in class, students are still expected to understand the information found in the readings.

Discussion Questions and other assignments are designed to help students identify, analyze, and practice the concepts covered in this course.

Discussion Questions are postings on a forum on D2L that are tied with the reading for each class period. These Discussion Questions represent a chance to engage with the readings, to process the readings more thoroughly, to develop one train of thought, and to practice writing fully-developed paragraphs. Students will 1) select one central idea, discuss your own position on the subject, and support your argument using examples from the reading, our class discussions, or your own experience as a language learner/language teacher and 2) pose a question (either for clarification or further inquiry) relating to the reading. These postings will be due at 9:00 am the day they are written on the course calendar.

Discussion Question Presentation 2%

Students will give a short (5 min.) presentation on the discussion questions submitted by their peers for one of the readings. Students will identify at least 2 key issues described in the discussion question postings for their assigned day, briefly summarize each issue, and propose a response based on discussions and previous class readings.

Video Presentation: ESL in the US and in Wisconsin 8%

With a group, students will research ESL in the US and in Wisconsin, design a PowerPoint or Prezi, and record the presentation as a video. The presentation should address the following topics:

- Why do we have to offer ESL instruction in US and in Wisconsin schools?
- Laws / events: Lau vs. Nichols; Bilingual Education Act; No Child Left Behind; California's proposition 227; formation of bilingual schools in Dade County, FL; Arizona's proposition 203; Elementary and Secondary Education Act (1984); founding of TESOL.
- Historical evolution of ESL population in the US
- Current situation in Wisconsin: Who are the ESL students in Wisconsin? Where are they from? What laws exist? How does the state deal with ESL students currently? Describe the direction of ESL instruction in Wisconsin.

The presentation will be approximately 10 minutes in length. Students will upload the video file to OneDrive.

Classroom Management Plan 10%

Students will develop an outline of general classroom rules and practices that will help to facilitate an atmosphere conducive to general learning and language learning in particular. This outline should also reflect the characteristics for the level(s) that you would like to teach (e.g., if you expect to teach at the elementary level, plan for that level). Detailed instructions can be found on D2L.

Collection of Activities 20%

Students will create a collection of 15 activities, including the materials needed for each activity. These activities need to encourage the use of English and foster the acquisition of the English language. Students should consult the cooperating teacher for their practicum in the creation of their activities.

Throughout the semester every student will have an opportunity to present their favorite activity in a 5-minute presentation.

The collection of activities must include a table of contents indicating the title of each activity and which ones incorporate technology.

For each activity students must:

- Include the appropriate grade level
- Include a list of materials needed
- Explain how the activity works, preferably in steps
- Describe when you would use the activity during a lesson and why
- Include any handouts/materials (within reason) for the activity

Please see the sample Collection of Activities on D2L. Students will upload the Collection of Activities to

Lesson Plans 20%

Effective lesson planning shows an understanding of how to teach English to non-native speakers and learners of English. Students will create 4 lesson plans for a level they plan to teach in the future (i.e., 1st grade, High School, adult education, etc.) using the SOE template (on D2L). Students will also provide all additional materials to be used for each lesson (handouts, websites, etc.). Finally, you should incorporate a meaningful use of technology that will be of value to students in understanding the topic at hand.

- Lesson plans 1 & 2 (topic-based lessons): develop a 2-lesson sequence on a specific topic relevant for your level of instruction
- Lesson plan 3 (reading): pick a reading text appropriate for your level of instruction and develop a lesson that allows students to engage with the text
- Lesson plan 4 (writing): pick a writing assignment and develop a complete lesson around it.

As part of the lesson plans, students will also submit:

- 1) A comprehensive list of topics covered in ESL classes based on the curriculum relevant for your chosen level (I suggest you discuss this list with your cooperating teacher).
- 2) An annotated (= summary and evaluation) bibliography (=list of sources) of 15 works typically read at your chosen level.

Assessments 10%

Students will formulate at least one assessment tool (e.g., rubrics) to be used with each of their lesson plans. Students will also submit a list of assessments ESL teachers administer regularly, including a brief description of the assessment (I suggest you discuss this list with your cooperating teacher).

Practicum Reflections 10%

Observing other teachers and reflecting on one's own approach to teaching serves as a major component for training to enter the teaching profession. During the practicum, students should write extensive journal notes. Based on those notes, students will write 5 reflections. Each reflection should engage critically with the observed instruction, citing examples from your own language learning experience and providing suggestions for improvement. The reflections must discuss the following topics:

1. Thorough description of the language of ESL students you observed
2. The role of assessment
3. Classroom management
4. Topic of your choosing
5. Topic of your choosing

Potential topics for reflections 4 and 5 you could choose from are: error correction, teacher feedback, activity formats, the use of the students' L1, etc. Each reflection should comment on how the classroom practices under observation contribute to language learning.

The practicum evaluation (on D2L) is a part of the practicum reflection grade and will be turned in the same day as the practicum reflection. It is the responsibility of students to have their cooperating teacher fill out and sign the evaluation. Once filled out, it must be scanned and uploaded to OneDrive as a pdf file.

Notes on Assignments

Students will be turning in 'drafts' of major assignments throughout the course. Only one Word document per assignment should be submitted to OneDrive. Using a shared folder in OneDrive facilitates feedback and helps students to revert to previously saved versions if necessary. Do not upload a new document to OneDrive for each draft of an assignment; which makes the workflow for everyone much more complicated.

All assignments, aside from the presentations, will be graded Satisfactory (= 100%), Needs work (=50%), or Unsatisfactory (=0%). The idea is to turn in a final draft that is satisfactory after instructor and peer feedback. Grades will be indicated after each assignment is due as indicated on the course calendar. A final assessment will be conducted at the end of the semester, at which point the grades may be changed based on improvements made and will be finalized.

Final Exam 10%

The final exam will be a comprehensive exam of concepts and terms covered during the semester. The exam will require you to be familiar with all the important terms we covered in class and in the readings. Discussion Questions and in-class discussions should prepare you well for this exam, so take both your preparation for class as well as the work we do in class very seriously. Also, if you have read the syllabus up to this point, please email me a picture of the national bird of Ecuador. No joke.

Disability Services: UWSP is committed to providing reasonable and appropriate accommodations to students with disabilities and temporary impairments. If you have a disability or acquire a condition during the semester where you need assistance, please contact the Disability and Assistive Technology Center on the 6th floor of Albertson Hall (library) as soon as possible. DATC can be reached at 715-346-3365 or DATC@uwsp.edu.

Academic Misconduct: This course is part of the UW-Stevens Point academic community, an academic community that is bound together by the traditions and practice of scholarship. Honest intellectual work – on examinations and on written assignments is essential to the success of this community of scholars. Using classmates' responses to answer exam questions or disguising words written by others as your own undermines the trust and respect on which our course depends. The work in this course is challenging and will demand a good deal of each of you. I have every confidence that each of you can succeed. Doing your own work will enhance your sense of accomplishment when the semester comes to a close.

Additionally, the classroom environment is a unique opportunity for students to share ideas, opinions, discuss classroom and course content. As each student is entitled to contribute in class, specific expectations are necessary to ensure a thriving classroom environment. Expectations include: arriving to class on time, being prepared for class, no electronic devices, unless authorized to do so, any loud shouting, excessive side conversations, arriving to class under the influence of any alcohol or drugs, profane language, and verbal or physical threats, intimidation of any kind, or any other behavior that may be disruptive to the professor or other students. If any of this behavior is exhibited, you may be asked to leave the class for the day. Any continued disruptive behavior may result in a referral to the Dean of Students Office.

IMPORTANT: This syllabus is accurate and complete to the best of my knowledge. However, I reserve the right to make midcourse changes to the readings, assignments, or exam dates as needed.
