Required Text:

Nevid, Fichner-Rathus, and Rathus (2013). Human Sexuality in a World of Diversity 9th edition. Allyn and Bacon, Boston.

Course Description:

Responsible sexuality is an essential component of our physical health. A full grasp of the traditional and contemporary issues in human sexuality is needed to obtain a mature understanding of the role that sexuality plays in the world today. An ability to participate in uninhibited communication about sexual issues is essential to the full development of a person educated about sexuality, and will play a significant role in the progress of the class. To accomplish this goal we will utilize discussion strategies to develop a level of comfortable communication on a wide variety of sexuality issues. At every opportunity appropriate teaching methods and materials will be covered for school populations' grades K-12.

Course Objectives: Upon completion of this course, students will...

1. Develop their individual conviction and self-concept of their own sexuality and the sexuality-related behaviors they choose.
2. Confront values, morals, and more to determine the kinds of behavior appropriate to their state of sexuality and the sexuality of others including people from other cultures.
3. Examine the role of society, U.S. culture, and the popular media in determining sexual values by reflecting on their past experiences with sexuality education.
4. Become prepared for the role they will play in home, family, community, school, or worksite as a positive sex educator comfortable with this chosen role.
5. Be able to apply principles, methods and techniques of studying and teaching human sexuality.
6. Gain a firm understanding and grounding in the controversial aspects surrounding sexuality education curriculum.

InTASC standards

2. Learning Differences

The teacher uses understanding of individual differences and diverse cultures and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.

4. Content Knowledge

The teacher understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline(s) he/she teaches and creates learning experiences that make the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to assure mastery of the content.

5. Application of Content

The teacher understands how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.

9. Professional Learning & Ethical Practice

The teacher engages in ongoing professional learning and uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly the effects of choices and actions on others, and adapts practice to meet the needs of each learner.

10. Leadership & Collaboration

The teacher seeks appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals, and community members to ensure learner growth, and to advance the profession.

Attendance:

You are expected to show up and actively participate in class discussions on a regular basis. Rather than taking attendance regularly, there will be short in-class assignments given on random days throughout the semester (see the “Course Assignments” section of this syllabus for further information). There will be NO make-ups allowed on course assignments and exams. The instructor must be notified in writing (email or hand written notes are acceptable) of any potential problems BEFORE the scheduled due date or exam time. ANY UNEXCUSED ABSENCE FROM THIS CLASS WILL RESULT IN ONE LETTER GRADE DEDUCTION FROM YOUR FINAL GRADE IN THE CLASS**

Academic Integrity:

Academic dishonesty of any sort will not be tolerated in this course. Examples of dishonesty include giving or receiving aid during examinations, using any type of crib sheet, copying from or looking at another exam, or submitting another’s work as your own. Students who engage in scholastic dishonesty will be referred to the Dean of Students for appropriate disciplinary action and will receive no credit for academic work related to the incident of academic dishonesty.

Student Academic Disciplinary Procedures

UWSP 14.01 Statement of principles

The board of regents, administrators, faculty, academic staff and students of the university of Wisconsin system believe that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental to the mission of higher education and of the university of Wisconsin system. The university has a responsibility to promote academic honesty and integrity and to develop procedures to deal effectively with instances of academic dishonesty. Students are responsible for the honest completion and representation of their work, for the appropriate citation of sources, and for respect of others' academic endeavors. Students who violate these standards must be confronted and must accept the consequences of their actions.

UWSP 14.03 Academic misconduct subject to disciplinary action.

(1) Academic misconduct is an act in which a student:

- (a) Seeks to claim credit for the work or efforts of another without authorization or citation;
- (b) Uses unauthorized materials or fabricated data in any academic exercise;
- (c) Forges or falsifies academic documents or records;
- (d) Intentionally impedes or damages the academic work of others;
- (e) Engages in conduct aimed at making false representation of a student's academic performance; or
- (f) Assists other students in any of these acts.

(2) Examples of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to: cheating on an examination; collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course; submitting a paper or assignment as one's own work when a part or all of the paper or assignment is the work of another; submitting a paper or assignment that contains ideas or research of others without appropriately identifying the sources of those ideas; stealing examinations or course materials; submitting, if contrary to the rules of a course, work previously presented in another course; tampering with the laboratory experiment or computer program of another student; knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any of the above, including assistance in an arrangement whereby any work, classroom performance, examination or other activity is submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Classroom Behavior:

I do not just want you present in class; I want you to actively participate in class. Your course relevant opinions, thoughts, etc. are valuable and will be treated as such. Likewise, your absent state of mind will also be noted and felt by your learning community. Socializing, sleeping, cell phones, pagers, and personal use handhelds all indicate an absent state of mind and will result in a five-point deduction from your final grade for each distraction.

Inappropriate classroom behaviors include behaviors that disrupt instruction by the professor and/or leaning of classmates and behaviors that threaten, harass, or discriminate against others. Students who engage in inappropriate classroom behavior will be asked to leave the classroom, will receive no credit for attendance and in-class activities for that day, and must meet with the instructor prior to returning to the next class meeting. Severe cases of inappropriate behavior will be referred to the Dean of Students for appropriate disciplinary action.

Course Assignments:

In-Class Assignments: (100 points)

Throughout the semester, there will be in-class assignments that are designed to allow you to apply the concepts that are being taught in the class lectures. The dates of these in-class assignments will not be announced and these assignments cannot be made up.

Exams: (300 points)

There will be 3 exams throughout the course of the semester. The exams are not comprehensive, however the organization of the course is such that the topics build upon each others. The exams include multiple choice, true/false, and sometimes short answer or essay questions that cover content from the class lectures and readings. Study guides for the exams will be given in advance. No “make-up” exams are available for students who perform poorly or are absent from class on an exam date.

Exam 1: Chapters 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8

Exam 2: Chapters 5, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14

Exam 3: Chapters 2, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19

Reaction Paper: Typewritten, 2 pages. (50 points). After reading the position paper provided, select a position in support of, or disagreement with, the point of view taken by the author. Within the body of your paper give reasons why you believe the way you do and support your beliefs with documentation if possible, however this is not necessary. Be ready to discuss and defend your position in class. This paper is an expression of your opinions, but should have support for this position. Support means that I need to see a strong basis behind your reasoning; this may be in the form of documentation or life events, religious upbringing, personal values, family values, societal values and/or experiences. Spend some time reflecting on the reasons behind your beliefs (i.e. are they religious, societal, cultural, personal). Specifically be able to defend the “why” behind your beliefs.

Your Sex Education: Typewritten, 3-4 pages. (50 points).

This is a paper about your own personal sex education history. How have you acquired your sexuality knowledge base (before enrolling in this class). This includes relationships, dating, anatomy, etc...the entire spectrum. How old were you when you were “educated?” What types of things did you learn? What do you wish you could have learned about that you did not, and WHY? Please select 3 of the following sources of knowledge and describe how each influenced your sexuality education up to this point:

- Parents
- Siblings/other family members
- Friends
- Formal sexuality education
- Media
- Internet
- Family doctor
- Church/Temple/Synagogue/religious affiliation/etc.
- Other

Conclude with your opinion of the importance of your sexuality education as it relates to your life. How has it shaped who you are and your decision making?

An alternate assignment will be available for those who are uncomfortable writing about this topic.

Professional Visitation: Typewritten, 2-3 pages. (50 points). You may choose either of the following:

School Health - visit a public school teacher (any level) and discuss how they deal with sex education and sexuality in school and/or classroom: i.e., teaching units, classroom relationships between students, personal student/teacher interactions, letters home, forbidden topics, etc.

Community Health - visit with a community health agency that conducts work in some aspect of sexuality (crisis phone, abortion or contraception counseling, birthright, sexual abuse, marriage counseling etc.) Discuss job satisfaction, funding, problem areas, referrals, training etc.

Make sure to address these areas when writing this paper.

- Who did you interview?
- Name of agency or school?
- Describe the agency or school.
- How does sexuality influence the person's position?
- Describe the person's comfort level with regards to dealing with work-related sexuality issues.
- How often do work-related issues related to sexuality arise for this person?
- Describe the major difficulties of the person's position when dealing with sexuality issues.
- Regarding sexuality issues, who dictates what material is taught, used, omitted, etc...(Principal, state, school board, boss etc...)?

Equal access for students with disabilities

Statement of Policy

UW-Stevens Point will modify academic program requirements as necessary to ensure that they do not discriminate against qualified applicants or students with disabilities. The modifications should not affect the substance of educational programs or compromise academic standards; nor should they intrude upon academic freedom. Examinations or other procedures used for evaluating students' academic achievements may be adapted. The results of such evaluation must demonstrate the student's achievement in the academic activity, rather than describe his/her disability.

If modifications are required due to a disability, please inform the instructor and contact Jim Joque in the Disability Services Office in 101 SSC, and complete an Accommodations Request form. Phone: 346-3365 or email jjoque@uwsp.edu

Religious Beliefs

Relief from any academic requirement due to religious beliefs will be accommodated according to UWSP 22.03, with notification within the first three weeks of class.
