COURSE INFORMATION

Course Description: An introduction to the field of Community Corrections including sentencing, probation, parole, fines, community service, and intermediate sanctions such as intensive supervision, house arrest/electronic monitoring, and boot camps.

Following a brief overview into the history of corrections, this course will highlight critical issues and trends in community corrections within today's criminal justice system. Particular emphasis will be placed on the assessment and evaluation of offenders, the availability and access to intermediate sanctions, and the supervision of those placed on community supervision. Through a variety of course assignments, students will be exposed to the "daily life" of a probation and parole agent.

Credits: 3

Prerequisite: none.

Course Structure: This course will be delivered in person. Additionally, Canvas will be utilized to post weekly course announcements, to post grades, and as the repository for students to submit all homework. You will use your UWSP account to login to the course from the Canvas Login Page. If you have not activated your UWSP account, please visit the Manage Your Account page to do so.

Textbook & Course Materials

Required Text: Essentials of Community Corrections, Robert D. Hanser (2019). SAGE Publications, Inc., ISBN 9781506359762  this book is available via the college bookstore as a text rental.

Course Learning Outcomes

- Students will be able to examine modern day application of the primary goals of Corrections, with emphasis on those impacting community-based supervision.
- Students will be able to describe the legal framework under which Probation, Parole, and Extended Supervision function within today's criminal justice system.
- Students will demonstrate an awareness of key legal rulings related to community corrections.
- Students will describe how probation conditions are modified and under what circumstances.

- Students will examine how the use of contemporary sentencing philosophies differ from traditional criminal justice practices and the resulting impact on the offender, victim and community.
- Students will apply contemporary assessment and evaluation practice in the formulation of an offender case plan.
- Students will apply effective supervision strategies given a variety of case studies.
- Students will apply evidence-based practice in the evaluation of a community corrections program.
- Students will reflect upon the importance of cultural competence within community corrections.

You will meet the outcomes listed above through a combination of the following activities in this course: written assignments, discussions, individual projects, small group activities and quizzes/exam(s).

Chapter Order:

This course is broken into three separate units (identified below). The content of the course will be split into the following units:

- Unit One: Chapters 1, 2, 4, 8, 9
- Unit Two: Chapters 3, 6, 7, 5
- Unit Three: Chapters 10, 11, 12, 13.

You will notice that in both unit 1 and 2 the orders for chapter reading do not follow in sequence as outlined by the author. Important Note: Refer to the Canvas course announcement page for the most up to date information related to updated course information. Assigned readings and assignment details will be explained in detail within the Assignment links for the related chapter. If you have any questions, please contact your instructor.

Student Expectations

In order to help you know course expectations, the following tasks will be required throughout the course:

- Utilize a computer to conduct research &/or basic internet searches.
- Download and upload documents to Canvas
- Read documents online
- View online videos
- Complete quizzes &/or tests online.
- Upload documents to Canvas to submit an assignment &/or exam.
- Participate in class discussions. In some situations, asynchronous online discussions may be required or necessary to complete an assignment.

EVALUATION DATA:

Chapter Readings: A key to student success in this course is completing the chapter readings prior to the start of class each week. Throughout the semester assigned learning activities will connect to the weekly readings. These assignments serve as both a graded activity and as a foundation for classroom discussion. Assignments, unless otherwise indicated, will be submitted via Canvas when due.

NOTE: In reality, by semester end, the assignments connected to the readings will equate to the point value of an exam. Thus, students are strongly encouraged to not overlook the importance of homework.

Current Events: During the second night of class, each student will sign up a specific class period for which they are responsible to present a ‘Current Events in Corrections’ (for this assignment, Current is defined as within the past 9 months). The chosen item must pertain to the selected topic for this class (ideally, topics will align to the chapter assigned for a given week). Students may elect to utilize media to illustrate their point; however, “PG” content is a requirement. In the event the student misses their assigned week either due to unexcused absence or lack of preparation there is no make-up opportunity. As part of this class presentation, students should prepare specific questions to generate a 5-7minute class discussion. In total, this assignment is not intended to exceed 10 minutes. Grading will be based upon relevance, appropriateness to audience, organization and the overall preparedness of the student for the presentation. At the conclusion of the presentation, the student will submit a one-page typed outline of their presentation. Point value: 15 points.

Exams: Throughout the semester unit assessments will occur. A final exam, based upon cumulative content, will occur at semester end. As you prepare for an exam, student collaboration is permitted; however, each exam submission is INDIVIDUAL. Therefore, no two submissions should look remotely similar. The point value of exams will vary. Quizzes may be utilized throughout the course to assess student’s progress in the course.

Mini-Projects: As an alternative to a comprehensive research paper, this course will include the completion of two mini-projects. One will be due in early March; the second will be due late April. Due dates, along with detailed directions will be provided to the students early in the semester. The goal of each project will be to explore in depth a topic related to Community Corrections. NOTE: each mini-project is worth 50 points, of which 5 points is awarded based upon the student completion of a self-evaluation utilizing a scoring rubric provided.

FINAL EXAM: This course will have a cumulative assessment at the conclusion of the semester. Due to the uncertainty of Covid, more details regarding the final assessment will be shared as we approach the end of term.

NOTE: While every effort has been made to identify planned assessment activities, the instructor reserves the right to adjust (add or removed planned evaluation activities) based upon the progress of the class. Any changes will be shared with the class.

Instructor Assistance: The easiest method to reach me is to call my cell phone (listed on page one). Please do not hesitate to call me if have questions on an assignment, if you are seeking feedback on a graded activity, or if you anticipate being absent from class. If I do not answer, please leave a message.

COURSE POLICIES:

PARTICIPATION: In order to gain the most out class, the expectation of this instructor is that students will make every effort to actively participate each week as scheduled, which includes regular attendance at class. Students are expected to demonstrate commitment to the learning process and accept responsibility for the outcome of the effort they put forth in this class. Students are responsible for any content they missed when absent from class.

Assignment submission & Late work Policy: All assignments for this course will be submitted electronically through Canvas. Assignments must be submitted by the given deadline or special permission must be requested from instructor before the due date.

In the event you are absent from class, you are still responsible to submit your assignment on or before the scheduled due date. Any other arrangement must receive prior permission from the instructor. Assignments related to chapter readings will not be accepted more than one week beyond the scheduled date due. Should an extension be necessary for the mini-project, please work directly with me to identify an agreed upon due date. Late assignments may be assessed a penalty (up to 2 points per day for weekly assignment; 5% per day for mini-project). The intent of this policy is to treat all students consistent and fair.

GRADE: Your grade will be based on a cumulative percentage as follows:

A	=	94 – 100%	C	=	74 – 76%
A-	=	90 – 93%	C-	=	70 - 73%
B+	=	87 – 89%	D+	=	67 - 69%
B	=	84 – 86%	D	=	64 - 66%
B-	=	80 – 83%	D-	=	60 - 63%
C+	=	77 – 79%	F	=	Below 60%

NOTE: Viewing Grades in Canvas: Points you receive for graded activities will be posted to Grades. Click on the Grades link to view your points.

HOMEWORK FORMAT: All assignments are to be completed using “single space, size 12 font” for all assignments. Students are highly encouraged to proofread your papers prior to submission to ensure your work reflects your own effort and best effort. All assignments will be submitted via Canvas.

Expected Instructor Response Times & General Course Questions:

Throughout the semester, I will attempt to respond to student emails within 36-48 hours. If you have not received a reply from me within 48 hours, please resend your email or message. I will attempt to grade written work within one week of the posted due date; however, longer written assignments may take me longer to read and assess.

MISCELLANEOUS: Students are encouraged to do independent research on the subject of Community Corrections. Students are encouraged to share this information during classroom activities. This class is intended to be engaging. In order for this to occur, students are encouraged to take an active role in participating in class each week, complete out of class readings/learning activities, participate in class discussions / small group activities, ask questions, seek answers, and challenge yourself to learn new ideas. We will read the text near entirety.

Build Rapport

If you find that you have any trouble keeping up with assignments or other aspects of the course, make sure you let your instructor know as early as possible. As you will find, building rapport and effective relationships are key to becoming an effective professional. Make sure that you are proactive in informing your instructor when difficulties arise during the semester so that we can help you find a solution.

General Information regarding UWSP course enrollment & support:

Understand When You May Drop This Course

It is the student’s responsibility to understand when they need to consider unenrolling from a course. Refer to the UWSP Academic Calendar for dates and deadlines for registration. After this period, a serious and compelling reason is required to drop from the course. Serious and compelling reasons includes: (1) documented and significant change in work hours, leaving student unable to attend class, or (2) documented and severe physical/mental illness/injury to the student or student’s family.

Incomplete Policy

Under emergency/special circumstances, students may petition for an incomplete grade. Eligibility for an incomplete grade will follow college policy/procedure.

Inform Your Instructor of Any Accommodations Needed

If you have a documented disability and verification from the Disability and Assistive Technology Center and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please contact your instructor as soon as possible. It is the student’s responsibility to provide documentation of disability to Disability Services and meet with a Disability Services counselor to request special accommodation before classes start.

The Disability and Assistive Technology Center is located in 609 Albertson Hall and can be contacted by phone at (715) 346-3365 (Voice) (715) 346-3362 (TDD only) or via email at datctr@uwsp.edu.

Statement of Policy

UW-Stevens Point will modify academic program requirements as necessary to ensure that they do not discriminate against qualified applicants or students with disabilities. The modifications should not affect the substance of educational programs or compromise academic standards; nor should they intrude upon academic freedom. Examinations or other procedures used for evaluating students' academic achievements may be adapted. The results of such evaluation must demonstrate the student's achievement in the academic activity, rather than describe his/her disability.

If modifications are required due to a disability, please inform the instructor and contact the Disability and Assistive Technology Center in 609 ALB, or (715) 346-3365.

Commit to Integrity

As a student in this course (and at this university) you are expected to maintain high degrees of professionalism, commitment to active learning and participation in this class and also integrity in your behavior in and out of the classroom.

UWSP Academic Honesty Policy & Procedures

Student Academic Disciplinary Procedures

UWSP 14.01 Statement of principles

The board of regents, administrators, faculty, academic staff and students of the university of Wisconsin system believe that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental to the mission of higher education and of the university of Wisconsin system. The university has a responsibility to promote academic honesty and integrity and to develop procedures to deal effectively with instances of academic dishonesty. Students are responsible for the honest completion and representation of their work, for the appropriate citation of sources, and for respect of others' academic endeavors. Students who violate these standards must be confronted and must accept the consequences of their actions.

UWSP 14.03 Academic misconduct subject to disciplinary action.

(1) Academic misconduct is an act in which a student:

- (a) Seeks to claim credit for the work or efforts of another without authorization or citation;
- (b) Uses unauthorized materials or fabricated data in any academic exercise;
- (c) Forges or falsifies academic documents or records;
- (d) Intentionally impedes or damages the academic work of others;
- (e) Engages in conduct aimed at making false representation of a student's academic performance; or
- (f) Assists other students in any of these acts.

(2) Examples of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to: cheating on an examination; collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course; submitting a paper or assignment as one's own work when a part or all of the paper or assignment is the work of another; submitting a paper or assignment that contains ideas or research of others without appropriately identifying the sources of those ideas; stealing examinations or course materials; submitting, if contrary to the rules of a course, work previously presented in another course; tampering with the laboratory experiment or computer program of another student; knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any of the above, including assistance in an arrangement whereby any work, classroom performance, examination or other activity is submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Intellectual Property: Lecture materials and recordings for the Community Corrections class for which you are enrolled are protected as intellectual property at UW-Stevens Point. Students in this course may use the materials and recordings for their personal use related to participation in this class. Students may also take notes solely for their personal use. If a lecture is not already recorded, you are not authorized to record my lectures without my permission unless you are considered by the university to be a qualified student with a disability requiring accommodation. [Regent Policy Document 4-1]. Students may not copy or share lecture materials outside of class, including posting on internet sites or selling to commercial entities. Students are prohibited from providing or selling their personal notes to anyone else or being paid for taking notes by any person or commercial firm without the instructor's express permission. Unauthorized use of these copyrighted lecture materials and recordings constitutes copyright infringement and may be addressed under the university's policies, UWS Chapters 14 and 17, governing student academic and non-academic misconduct.

Religious Beliefs

Relief from any academic requirement due to religious beliefs will be accommodated according to UWS 22.03, with notification within the first three weeks of class.
