Course description: Introduction to Sociology Context is designed to help students understand what twentieth century sociologist C. Wright Mills called the "sociological imagination." A sociological imagination allows us to think beyond ourselves and place ourselves in a larger ever-changing globalized world.

Course Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to: 1. Recognize sociology as a social science 2. Explain the sociological perspective 3. Identify the major concepts used by sociologists to investigate human behaviors and social phenomena, including theory, social interaction, social organization, and social inequality 4. Examine how personal life chances and choices are influenced by the larger social context including social, cultural, and/or political institutions 5. Recognize and appreciate the diversity of human groupings based on race/ethnicity, gender, class, national origin, religion, family status, etc. 6. Describe the various kinds of inequality and marginalization in human society; 7. Develop critical thinking skills to explain and predict various aspects of social phenomena.

The University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point occupies lands of Ho—Chunk and Menominee land and sacred land of all indigenous peoples.

Course Policies

Attendance Policy

Attendance at all classes is mandatory.

Attendance penalties begin with the fourth absence. A seventh absence will lead to a failing grade.

If you must be absent for personal or professional reasons it is your responsibility to get class notes from a classmate.

Missed exams may only be made up in case of emergencies reported before the exam.

Late papers may be penalized 3% of assignment grade per day late.

Disability Services

Consistent with the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, section 504, and the ADA act of 1990, any person enrolling in this course who may require alternative instructional and/or evaluative procedures due to a handicapping condition should feel free to contact Disability Services and Assistive Technology at 715-346-3365 in Room 609 Learning Resource Center at 900 Reserve Street. Staff will work to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities. Please let me know if I can assist in any way.

Academic Integrity

All students are subject to university regulations concerning cheating and plagiarism. To ensure that the highest level of academic and personal integrity is upheld, it is important that you understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UWSP (see Academic Integrity: A Guide for Students). For a complete overview of UWSP academic standards and disciplinary procedures, please visit: the following website: <http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Pages/Academic-Misconduct.aspx>

Face covering requirement:

Face coverings are not currently required but are encouraged.

Mandatory Reporting

We are deeply committed to finding ways to effectively prevent, reduce and respond to discrimination and harassment, including sexual misconduct and interpersonal violence. By asking all employees to report, we will be able to respond more effectively when a member of our community experiences such misconduct.

Class Etiquette

Cell phones, laptop computers, and other electronic devices are very disruptive so please turn them off before coming to class. Texting is particularly disruptive. If you use your laptop to take notes or you need your phone for an emergency, please inform me in advance.
