Hello and Welcome to In This Moment, Reflections of Our Time a collection of original short plays, monologues, and songs by UWSP students from the Theatre & Dance Department. The creation of this work came from the desire to provide our students with an opportunity to create, design and perform while at the same time complying with the university’s COVID-19 protection and prevention measures. During this past summer, the Theatre & Dance Faculty and Staff met via weekly Zoom meetings to consider options for the fall production season. Without the ability to have audience in attendance and actors, designers and crews in close proximity, the decision was made to move to an entirely online production platform. In This Moment, Reflections of our Time, was proposed to the students as an opportunity to create original work dealing with the themes of our current world, including but not limited to COVID-19, quarantine, Black Lives Matter, #MeToo and other issues that were impacting the lives of students. Students submitted scripts, and a panel of faculty and student representatives selected 9 pieces to be produced. The production teams include student and faculty directors and designers, along with actors and production staff from the department’s BA & BFA programs. This grand experiment has pushed our department to think outside of the usual box and attempt to enter the world of streaming and video performance. It also allowed the faculty and students to build new relationships and collaborate with each other in new ways.

We are proud of the student’s resilience, willingness to grow and learn new skills as well as challenge their perceptions of newfound aesthetics. We are all still beginners in this work and appreciate your willingness to join us in this new way of connecting the human experience to a virtual audience.

Thank you so much for supporting the work of the Theatre & Dance Department, and we cannot wait to see you again in person sometime in the near future.

The mission of the Theatre and Dance Department is to serve

• Its majors and minors through curricular offerings and performance/production activities that heighten intellectual, artistic, cultural, and humane sensitivities.

• The general student population through curricular offerings and stage productions that engender an appreciation and understanding of the performing arts and their contribution to the cultural and aesthetic enrichment of life.

• The university community and general central Wisconsin population through the production of quality stage performances.

The Department of Theatre and Dance recognizes that we work on the cultural lands originally occupied by the HoChunk and Menominee peoples.

The UW-Stevens Point Theatre and Dance Department’s off-campus storage space is funded by the Green Fund. Having this storage space allows us to reuse props and materials; thus, we are able to lessen our environmental impact by decreasing the amount of materials sent to landfills.

The Green Fund’s mission is to encourage and fund projects that positively affect the sustainability of the UW-Stevens Point campus community. The fund accomplishes this by investing capital in long-term sustainable projects that affect the way our campus uses energy and our shared natural resources. The Green Fund receives money from student segregated fees that are allocated by a student committee.
The Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival, part of the Rubenstein Arts Access Program, is generously funded by David M. Rubenstein.

Special thanks to The Harold and Mimi Steinberg Charitable Trust for supporting the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts’ Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival.

Additional support is provided by The Honorable Stuart Bernstein and Wilma E. Bernstein; and the Dr. Gerald and Paula McNichols Foundation.

Kennedy Center education and related artistic programming is made possible through the generosity of the National Committee for the Performing Arts.

This production is entered in the Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival (KCACTF). The aims of this national theater education program are to identify and promote quality in college-level theater production. To this end, each production entered is eligible for a response by a regional KCACTF representative, and selected students and faculty are invited to participate in KCACTF programs involving scholarships, internships, grants and awards for actors, directors, dramaturgs, playwrights, designers, stage managers and critics at both the regional and national levels.

Productions entered on the Participating level are eligible for invitation to the KCACTF regional festival and may also be considered for national awards recognizing outstanding achievement in production, design, direction and performance.

Last year more than 1,500 productions were entered in the KCACTF involving more than 200,000 students nationwide. By entering this production, our theater department is sharing in the KCACTF goals to recognize, reward, and celebrate the exemplary work produced in college and university theaters across the nation.
While the Department of Theatre & Dance season will look a little different this year, the high-quality, creative, and entertaining experiences you are accustomed to will not! The university has spent the summer months devising safe strategies, recommendations, and plans to welcome students back to campus while also considering ways that UWSP can stay engaged with the community. Throughout this process, the Department of Theatre & Dance has had to pivot in a new direction and reimagine a season that reflects more thoughtfully the changing landscape of our world. The department’s faculty and staff are committed to offering a season where our students can share their talents and artistry with audiences. Though our audiences cannot be live this semester due to campus recommendations that prohibit large gatherings, I am thrilled to share that we have a remarkable virtual fall season planned. The projects are timely, personal, and outstanding examples of the creative energy and spirit of our department.

I hope you can join us online for what I am sure will be an exciting and new adventure for everyone!

Michael Estanich, Chair
Department of Theatre & Dance
