THE GAZETTE PRINT,
STEVENS POINT, WISCONSIN.

1889.

INTRODUCTORY.

The publisher takes pleasure in presenting this, his first issue of the Stevens Point City Directory, to its patrons and the public, with the belief that it will serve to materially facilitate the transaction of business and become a hand book to both business men and private citizens. It has been a work of considerable labor, and the work has been prosecuted with the determination to secure the best possible result. The earlier pages of the book are devoted to miscellaneous information. The General Directory contains 3,361 names, which at a low computation, figuring on the basis of the last census, represent a population of over 9,000.

The publisher is confident that this will be found as free from errors as any work of a similar nature can be made. Sincere thanks are tendered to all who, by their liberal support and patronage, have materially aided in this work, and also to the city officials who so kindly assisted him in collecting the information required.

Respectfully,

C. GERTZ,
Publisher.

Strive to do right, fear to do wrong.

Injure not another's reputation in business.

Observe good manners.

Pay your debts promptly.

Punctuality is better than wisdom.

Use your leisure time for improvement.

Extend to everybody a kind salutation.

Zealously labor for the right.
