A Note from the Directors

A thank you and warm welcome from the Afterimages 2012 production team. We are excited to share an array of contemporary student work with you. The Afterimages 2012 process began in September with auditions, followed by an in-depth rehearsal process, faculty and peer showings and feedback sessions, all resulting in dances that are rich with detail and expressivity. The nine new student works presented in the Noel Fine Arts Center Jenkins Theatre represent a semester's worth of investigation and experimentation.

The dancers share passionate performances and beautifully embody the creative ideas of the choreographers. The artistic process is fueled by the trust and honesty each dancer brings to the choreographer's vision. We could not ask for a more dedicated group of artists.

In October the dance program produced Afterimages Outtakes. This year, 11 dances were performed on a Saturday night and a Sunday afternoon. Both days had audiences full of parents, friends, faculty and students supporting a wonderful showing of new works. With emotional and committed student dancing, these striking dances represent the creative spirit of the dance program.

Afterimages is a collaborative project that requires students to work together to choreograph, direct, perform, design and publicize an event suitable for a large audience. It would not be possible without all of support and help we have received from so many of our fellow students: dancers, choreographers, designers and technicians. We appreciate their level of commitment and professionalism. We would also like to thank all of our Department mentors for their help throughout this process; their support encourages us to do our best. A very special thank you to Michael Estanich for his insightful guidance and for his continued belief in our artistic visions and our abilities to be student leaders.

Thank you for your support of UWSP's Theatre and Dance Department. We are grateful that you are here and sincerely hope you enjoy the new works presented today!
